DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9 August 2007 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see page 6, filed 9 August 2007, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 19, 21-35 under 35 USC§102(b/e) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of US Pat. 6,417,227 or WO 00/85162 or US Pat. 4,113,881.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1621

4. Claims 19; 21-35 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Pat. 6,417,227 or WO 00/85162 or US Pat. 4,113,881.

US'227 teaches a compound and pharmaceutical composition containing said compound to treat arthritis. Said compound is cetyl myristoleate and can be administered to humans and animals daily. See columns 2-3.

WO'162 teaches a cetylated fatty acid and pharmaceutical composition containing said compound. Said compositions contain the cetylated fatty acids in the amount of 50 to 98% w/w of the mixture.

US'881 relates to a method for relieving and inhibiting at least one of the symptoms of inflammatory rheumatoid arthritis in mammals by administering orally, topically or parenterally a therapeutically effective amount of cetyl myristoleate.

The claims differ from the reference by limiting the treatment to periodontal disease. However it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to extrapolate periodontal disease could be treated.

The compositions used in the patents supra all treat inflammation, which is the source of the diseases disclosed. A recitation of the intended utility in the preamble does not impart patentability to a known composition. Since it is known cetyl fatty acid containing compositions can be used to treat inflammation, it is obvious that these compositions cited will also treat periodontal disease cause by inflammation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 19, 21-35 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a pharmaceutical composition for treating periodontal diseases comprising from about 1% to about 10% of a lecithin fatty acid, from about 15% to about 25% olive oil fatty acid, from about 70% to about 80% of an esterified fatty acid, and about 1% to about 5% of a tocophenol, and pharmaceutically appropriate carriers thereof, does not reasonably provide enablement for a method of treating periodontal disease comprising administering an effective amount of a composition comprising a cetylated fatty acid the composition to a subject in need of such treatment.

The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. All of the information contained in the specification enables a composition containing lecithin fatty acid, olive oil fatty acid, esterified fatty acid and tocophenol. There is no indication periodontal disease can be treated only with a pharmaceutical composition containing only cetyl fatty acid.
